

The Little Mermaid
Cast List
CONGRATULATIONS to the cast of Disney's The Little Mermaid!

We are so excited for this production. What a talented group of performers we have! The casting process is always a difficult one, but the casting panel is confident that we have selected the performers for each role which will best benefit the production as a whole. No matter what role you received, you should all be extremely proud of your audition. (We certainly are!) We also want to emphasize how important and vital to the show each and every cast member is. No matter what role a student is cast in we know that they are going to have a great time in this production and grow tremendously both as performers and people.

Double Casting and Understudies

We have chosen NOT to double cast most of the lead roles. This is the most technically difficult show we've done, and we need as much rehearsal time with the leads as possible. We only double cast a few of the roles, and then only if we felt that there would be enough time for both performers to have adequate rehearsal time. We have understudied several of the roles. Being an understudy is NOT a throw away role. Understudies will be required to attend all rehearsals for their role. This is an opportunity to grow and learn the role, however they will NOT be performing as the lead part unless the main performer is unable to perform. For those few roles that are double cast, a schedule of which performances will feature each performer in that lead role will be given out no less than three weeks before the show. This gives the director time to see which cast members match up and have the best chemistry together. When not playing their lead, performers will do the show in their Ensemble Group as listed below.

Our production staff has the tough job of casting a production with so many talented students. Now it's your turn to do your part. Please help us maintain a spirit of teamwork, encouragement, and humility. Perhaps you didn't get the role you wanted. You now have a choice. Choose to sport a positive attitude. Perhaps you got the role you wanted. You also have a choice. Choose to be humble. Everyone, please remember that words can be harmful and hurtful, a negative attitude is contagious, and gossip creates division. We take into account how you choose to handle disappointment when casting future shows. We value character here and who you are as a person. Often, the most growth happens when we don't get what we want.
